Passion for ELTHAM College

I am excited about the genuine collaboration between young people, teachers and families to create a unique environment, which not only enhances academia but recognises individual talents, aspirations, abilities and passion for lifelong learning. Education is essential for our young people in today's world but at ELTHAM the focus is on developing the whole person for life beyond schooling. Our children received a fabulous introduction to the College beginning in the ELC 3 program in 2002.

Professional Background

I am the founder (shareholder and director) of a private Information Technology Company specialising in the Healthcare sector for 13 years. Currently self-employed consulting in the Healthcare sector.

Other Community Involvement

I devote community time to the snow skiing industry.
